Seventh circular: congress programme, accommodation and excursions

Dear colleagues,

Preparations for the congress are entering their final stretch. We will be very happy to welcome about 400 delegates in Bordeaux. This seventh circular provides you with some additional information to prepare you for your stay in Bordeaux.

Congress Registration Rules

We remind you that only those officially registered will be able to participate in the congress and receive the available documentation and that registration can only be carried out online on the congress website:

<https://ciegl2022.sciencesconf.org/registration?forward-action=index&forward-controller=registration&lang=fr>

Registration fees must be paid directly on the congress website. See the sixth circular for details of rates and terms:

Congress Programme

The daily programme is online here:

The detailed program of the parallel sections can also be found online, by clicking on the section number. On the page that then opens, you will find the abstracts that have reached us by clicking on the link indicated by the eye symbol. 👁

Accommodation in Bordeaux

We remind you that accommodation is your responsibility, even if you are giving a paper. Bordeaux is a tourist city, and we urge you very strongly to book a hotel soon. You will find on the congress website the possibility of booking a room in a series of hotels, at a rate pre-arranged for us by the company KIT Groupe:

Excursions

We have also added the possibility of participating in other events and excursions, upon registration (for a fee), such as visiting a Bordeaux château with wine tasting, visiting the city of Saint-Émilion, the Dune du Pyla, etc. These events take place the evenings of Wednesday 31 August (for those who are not participating in the excursion to Périgueux), Thursday 1 and Friday 2 September, and Saturday 3 September for those who are planning to stay longer in Bordeaux. The number of places is limited; it would, therefore, be prudent to register as soon as possible for these events. You will find the link on this page:

While waiting to welcome you to the Bordeaux Congress, we send our very best wishes.

On behalf of the CIEGL 2022 Organizing Committee,
